Can someone tell me how to fix this problem because I can't do that without saving every music file on this program? This is (is my best guess) a regular Linux problem. Almost all Linux Users have their music in one folder, for example: /Music/, /Documents/, /Videos/ etc. All you have to do is to make sure that there is no other folder with / in its name on your disk. For example: /MyComputer/ or /MyDocuments/. Also, you have to make sure that there is no folder with /Volume/ in its name on your disk. For example: /MyVolume/. By the way, there's no / in /Music/. The folders are: /Music/, /Documents/, /Videos/ etc. I don't know how this happened, but it's not that unusual. If you can't do that without saving every music file on this program, delete it completely. Another user mentioned that she noticed that there was also the /Music/ folder in her /MyDocuments/ folder. As a side note, you have to be logged in to Windows as Administrator to be able to do that. Have you ever heard music without using a TTS engine? In my case I own a TV and a laptop, neither of them have a built in TTS engine. Without using any other piece of software I can record (using my laptop) a 20 minute song and load it from my PC's hard drive to play it in my TV. If you can do that without using any additional software, then you know how important the TTS engine is. :) I don't know why you guys feel the need to be so critical of people who just make a comment that they didn't
