■ Dynamics Effect Dynamics Effect adds a new dimension to an image by making it appear that a certain force is moving, changing, or manipulating an image. Figure 4-4: Use the radial scale to adjust the size and shape of the sphere. Creating a sphere To create a sphere, follow these steps: 1. Choose Create ⇒ 3D ⇒ Sphere from the main menu. 2. Choose your image from the Import dialog box. 3. Adjust the parameters of the sphere as needed for your image, as shown in Figure 4-4. 4. Create a different dynamic effect for the second image by repeating these steps. Adding a style To add a style to an image, follow these steps: 1. Choose Create ⇒ Style from the main menu. 2. Choose your image from the Import dialog box. 3. Edit the parameters of the style as needed for your image, as shown in Figure 4-5. Figure 4-5: Edit the style settings to reflect the image. Adding to the story When you create an effect, you have the option of adding it to more than one image. To do so, follow these steps: 1. Choose Create ⇒ Effect from the main menu. 2. Choose your image from the Import dialog box and choose Apply to All or Single. 3. Choose a second image (if you applied it to more than one image, you have more than one style). 4. Edit the settings for the effect as needed, as shown in Figure 4-6. 5. Apply the effect to your image. Photoshop has become a "go to" for many designers, copywriters, and editors for a number of reasons. Perhaps you are a writer or marketer who works with a graphic designer and the designer can't or won't use a printer to make ready-to-go copies for you. Or perhaps you don't have the time or resources to send your image out to be printed. No matter your reason, Photoshop offers great printing options and you can clean up images before printing. Another great feature of Photoshop is that it is very easy to create collages or collage-like effects. You can start with one image and create numerous different images using layers. Figure 4-6: Find an effect that best fits your

Q: Convert "^" to "" when I use grep I use linux shell. I have the following: `grep -i einillawk -F "[] '{print $1,$4}'| sed's/. (.) \(.).\1/g'` But, it tells error: `awk: can't open file `grep -i einillawk -F "[] '{print $1,$4}'| sed's/. (.) \(.).\1/g'` I use escape character because \ becomes other character. A: `sed` command should be: `sed's/. \(.*) .\1/'` You forgot to add space between (and.* Also, to add space before and after * you should use `sed's/ */'` and `sed's/ *$/'` Unifying Ancillary Ligand Effects in Metal-Organic Frameworks with High Luminescence Efficiency. Using a mixture of $\text{Zn}(\text{NO}_3)_2 \cdot 6 \text{H}_2\text{O}$ and (4-methoxycarbonylphenyl) isonicotinic acid (isopht) as a source of metal ions and nitrate ligands, the new MOF $\{[\text{Zn}(\text{isopht})(\text{NH}_3)] \cdot 6 \text{H}_2\text{O}\}_n$ (1) was crystallized from an ethanol/water mixture at room temperature. The structure of 1 is built up from a one-dimensional zigzag chain with Zn(II) ions connected to one another by nitrate bridges; the p-methoxy-substituted isopht groups link the Zn(II) chains. 1 is the first example of a MOF with a two-dimensional motif, and it is characterized by a luminescence quantum yield of 0.069. As a result of performing a systematic comparison between analogous structures, luminescence QYs of 0.037, 0.060, and 0.76 have been achieved for MOFs $\{[\text{Zn}(\text{isopht})(\text{CN})] \cdot 4.5 \text{H}_2\text{O}\}_n$, $\{[\text{Zn}(\text{isopht})(\text{pzdc})] \cdot 4.5 \text{H}_2\text{O}\}_n$, and $\{[\text{Zn}(\text{isopht})(4\text{-methoxy})]$

Photoshop shows you the range of values for an image when the eyedropper tool is selected. You can select one or more areas on an image and learn their values. Press the key and the eyedropper tool selects the areas you want to measure. Photoshop shows the range of values under the eyedropper. The values are the darkest and lightest values of the selected image. A calligraphic brush is a type of brush that produces an artistically formed line instead of a uniform stroke. It is created with user-defined settings. The pencil is used for quick sketching, for drawing inspiration or for quick retouching. The brush settings you choose for the pencil will influence the stroke and pressure you select. The lines you make are only visible for a short time so don't waste your time by creating a messy line. The pen tool lets you create freeform lines by moving the brush selection over the image. The Gradient tool lets you make gradient fills. You can select multiple areas and adjust the colors as needed. The Dodge and Burn tools lets you selectively lighten or darken the colors of an image. The Dodge tool lightens the area and the Burn tool darkens it. The Move tool lets you drag an image to a different location. You can use the Eraser tool to remove pixels from an image. These filters add different effects to your images. You can use the Magic Wand tool to select an image and all the pixels inside it that have similar properties. You can select areas of an image and use the Lasso tool to make selections. This lets you select a range of pixels. You can modify the size and the shape of the selection with settings. You can use the Pen tool to draw a selection around a part of an image. You can draw and edit selections with the Move tool. You can use the Blur tool to blur the image. The Sharpen tool focuses the image, bringing out details and edges. You can use the Sponge tool to add edge contrast to an image. You can use the Smudge tool to blur an area. The Clone tool copies pixels from one area of an image and inserts it into another area of the same image. You can use the Spot Healing Brush to select a damaged area of an image and fix it. The Eraser tool lets you remove pixels from an image. You can erase pixels with the Healing Brush tool
