What's New In AutoCAD?

Import and markup sheets from PDF files or sheets in the WordPerfect format (XWP) and import those into your drawings with the same or different formatting. Graphics Export: Create high-quality graphics, such as png, jpg, jpeg, or tiff files, from your drawings with just a few clicks. Import: Take your library with you wherever you go and access your drawings from any device. Import your 3D models into your drawings. AutoCAD for Windows tablet: Create drawings for 2D drafting using the touch screen of your Windows tablet. Drag and drop objects, access templates and toolbars, and see a realistic display on your device. iPad and iPhone apps: Create 2D drawings and 3D models for design, documentation, and product development on your iPad or iPhone. Online Training: The training videos of the tutorials in the ACADQUAISE Online Training program can be accessed in our online education portal. You can test yourself on the latest skills and tutorials and view the best videos at any time. Enhanced annotation with Natural language processing (NLP) Zoom Lens: A view change to a completely new part of the drawing area. Zoom-In and Zoom-Out: Interactive zooming of parts of your drawings. Workspace Layout: Drag and drop parts of your drawing to move them into a new drawing area. UPM: Create a new project, open your existing project or display the list of projects. Work with others: Share your drawings with colleagues, students, and anyone else with a subscription to AutoCAD. They can then view your drawing as a collaborative drawing. And much, much more ... Please watch the video to learn about all the new features and improvements that come in AutoCAD 2023. Markup Many designers and manufacturers already work in an environment where feedback is commonly used as a means to improve their drawings and products. If you are a designer or manufacturer you'll likely understand how important it is for others to be able to provide feedback directly to you about your drawings. With AutoCAD 2023 you can now set up a process that will allow others to import and markup any of your drawings, get feedback in a form that's most useful to you and keep your project managers informed about changes
