private Socket socket; public void run() { try { socket = new Socket("localhost", 8000); OutputStream output = socket.getOutputStream(); InputStream input = socket.getInputStream(); for (;;) { read(); }
} catch (Exception e) {
System.out.println("Error: " +
e.getMessage()); } } private void read() { try { byte[] data = new byte[10]; int rec; while ((rec = input.read(data))!= -1) {
```

System.out.print(new String(data, 0, rec)); } }
catch (Exception e) {
System.out.println("Error: " +
e.getMessage()); } } }

A: You can't simply use a raw stream for this. It's tied to the socket which is terminated at some point and you can't do anything about it. You should use
